

Common Engineering Programme

The School of Engineering also offers a special common gateway programme which allows you to decide on the course to take only after one or two semesters. You will graduate with the same diploma as students who had enrolled for a particular course right from the start.

The Common Engineering Programme is a single gateway to eight different engineering diploma courses, which gives you extreme flexibility. You do a common first year, before streaming into the diploma of your choice in your second or third semester, so that you have more time to find out your strengths and interests, or to observe the economic and industry trends, before deciding on the field to specialise in. So if you are unsure about the engineering course to take, then this flexible programme would suit you. You also get a second chance to enter our highly-popular Aerospace courses using your first semester polytechnic results.

You may choose from these eight diploma courses:

- Aerospace Electronics
- Aerospace Engineering
- Biomedical Engineering
- Business Process & Systems Engineering
- Clean Energy
- Computer Engineering
- Electronics
- Mechatronics
